EXPERIENCE

Internship

JUL 2023 - AUG 2023

Python Developer

Elevated my skills in Functional Programming and File Management through hands-on Python projects during this dynamic internship.

- Dived into diverse facets of the Python language, delving into proficiency in File Management, adept usage of Packages and Libraries, and mastering the principles of Object-Oriented Programming (OOP).
- Created a comprehensive console-based mini project – the Health Management System. This system adeptly assesses an individual's health status through input parameters, showcasing a refined ability to classify health conditions.

Open Source Contributor

Contributed significantly to an open-source project during our Hackathon journey, and I'm actively shaping this domain into a core strength of mine.

- Mastered fundamental operations of version control software, encompassing seamless execution of push, pull, and commit actions.

PROJECTS

Railway Rakes Scheduler

DATA REPO - [\[github\]](#)

PROJECT REPO - [\[github\]](#)

Played a pivotal role in a team project for a Hackathon focused on revolutionizing the scheduling of railway rakes in India. Our innovative solution not only tackles the challenge of demurrage charges but also propels a significant stride towards enhancing the efficiency and growth of the Indian economy.

- Acquired expertise in the art of data scraping, extracting valuable insights from unstructured data, and transforming it into actionable solutions for real-world challenges. Unleashed the power of turning raw information into strategic advantages.
- Served as the exclusive data populator, infusing life into every facet of the project with a singular focus on enriching and enhancing the data landscape.
